

Prayush Shrestha

About Me

I am a motivated and curious Computing student with a strong interest in technology, programming, and data analysis. I enjoy learning new skills and working with data to find practical solutions to problems. I have basic knowledge of Python, Excel, HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, along with creative skills in graphic design. I am a quick learner, a good team player, and always eager to improve my technical and communication abilities through new experiences and challenges.
